Message from the President

Barry Bernstein

November is voting time in University City. The election of UCCA officers is Wednesday, November 12; see page 3 for a list of candidates and voting information. And of course, city and state elections take place this month on November 4.

Please carefully remove the new 2015 UCCA membership envelope from this newsletter and make your decision as to which membership category best reflects your support level. We have listed many of UCCA's sponsored activities and events on the envelope so that you can see where your membership dues are applied.

Your 2015 membership includes special thank you bonus gifts and, for the first time ever, a UCCA MEMBERSHIP CARD! This card entitles you to unique discounts at many of our local businesses. So please join UCCA and help us help others in our community.

Barry Bernstein:
The 2015 membership drive starts now!

Thanks, Sue, for a job well done.

UCCA wants to thank Sue Nizyboriski, our past newsletter editor for nearly three years, for a job well done. She raised the bar for a small community newsletter to be sure. We are interviewing interested and qualified candidates this month to prepare our December/January combined issue.

The holiday season is just around the corner and we want to wish all our families a very special Happy Thanksgiving.

Mark your calendars, because on Friday, December 12, UCCA and Standley Park will once again combine a major community holiday event: Dinner with Santa starting at 5:30 and our own Tree Lighting event at 6:30. We hope to see everyone there enjoying a very special evening with music, refreshments, and of course the tree lighting!

UCCA wishes you and yours a very happy and safe holiday season. "Go Chargers!"

~Barry

IMAGINE UC 2020, our park, our schools, our community: DREAM BIG

by John Lee Evans

What is the goal of Imagine UC 2020?

- To look for ways to enhance the center of UC on Governor Drive between Genesee and Regents (Standley Middle School, Standley Park, Spreckels Elementary)
- To develop a master plan to enhance this area over the next few years
- To be pedestrian and bike friendly
- To be an education, recreation, entertainment, socializing and gathering place for all ages

What ideas have come up so far?

- A stage/pavilion for music and other performances by schools and community
- A jogging track around the park for students and for community
- An enhanced aquatic center for community, schools and high school sports
- A more beautiful boulevard at the center of our community for cars, pedestrians, bikes
- An informal gathering place in the center of the park, perhaps with WiFi

What are YOUR ideas?

We are at the idea gathering stage to determine what the community wants for this part of our neighborhood. After that we will begin to address funding possibilities with the school district, the city and community fundraising.

These projects could happen over the next few years, but we need to make it a comprehensive plan based upon what our schools and community want. Watch for upcoming meetings.

Who is on the organizing committee?

Our organizing committee consists of John Lee Evans from the San Diego School Board, Greg Zinser from ImproveUC and Barry Bernstein and Sandy Lippe from UCCA.

If you would like to get involved or have questions or ideas, please contact greg@ImproveUC.org.

Neighborhood Watch: How to Recognize a Solicitor and What to do Next

by Officer Matt Tortorella of the San Diego Police Department, Media Relations

Solicitors are a problem:

It has come to the attention of our Police Department that peddlers, interviewers and solicitors are canvassing our city streets. In tough economic times, the conditions are ripe for fraud, elder abuse, financial crimes and just downright falsely represented charities that are tantamount to outright theft. Let's dive into the waters headfirst and lay some terms out for understanding.

As the City's Municipal Code defines it, "A solicitor is a person who goes from house to house, business to business, without an appointment, or to one house, street, sidewalk, alley, plaza, park, public place, by foot or vehicle, who sells or solicits for value of goods. They may work for themselves or for a business." [San Diego Municipal Code 33.1401] And most importantly, "All persons working as interviewers, solicitors, peddlers or vendors of merchandise, services, magazines, etc. are required to obtain a Police Registration Card. When operating, the card MUST be displayed on the front of their person, and they MUST exhibit the card to any peace officer upon demand." [San Diego Municipal Code 33.1402]

What to look for:

This card is white in color, has a photo, tracking number, and identifying information along with official City of San Diego background and seal. Our SDPD Permits and Licensing Unit grants these passes after a background check, fingerprinting and collection of fees.

It is unlawful for ANY person to ring the doorbell of a residence, rap or knock on any door, or create any sound in a manner calculated to attract attention for the purpose of engaging in activity as a solicitor or interviewer if the occupants have posted on the premises "No solicitors," "No soliciting," "No solicitors or peddlers," or any similar language clearly denying invitation and entry to solicitors. [San Diego Municipal Code 33.1410]

Restrictions on solicitors:

No person under 14 years old will be issued a Registration Card, and persons under 18 must have a work permit from their school. And California Civil Code Section 1689 et. Seq., requires solicitors to provide a contract for buyers allowing a "3-day cooling-off period" for sales of $25 or more.

NO PERSON shall operate as a solicitor between the hours 8 p.m. and 9 a.m., except by appointment. [San Diego Municipal Code 33.1410] California Penal Code, section 532(d), makes it a misdemeanor to make false representation in solicitation of charitable contributions.

So what does this all mean?

In short, it is highly unlikely for a person who knocks on your door to be legitimately operating and in compliance with our Municipal Code and the State Laws. We as a Police Department feel strongly about identifying and contacting these persons, as a percentage of these are merely posing as solicitors for purposes of criminal enterprise. What better way to gauge home security, vacant status, yard security and valuables located within a home than knocking on doors and looking in windows, ostensibly to sell items or services? These solicitors are the smoke before the fire. Burglary series in San Diego have been canceled by arresting solicitor crews.

We would like you to report these persons as potential "casers" or suspects. The direct correlation between unauthorized soliciting and crime is well documented.

Recommended response:

When you are home and someone knocks on the door without appointment, we recommend you acknowledge the knock and let them know you are home. People have been surprised when a burglar using soliciting as a front thinks no one is home and enters the home after getting no answer on a knock. Ask the purpose of the visit and observe through a peephole. If it is a solicitor, ask to see the "Issued City License/ ID card of the person." Do not open the door if it isn't present or even if it is and you feel uncomfortable. Inform the person of your intention to call the police if they don't have a license to solicit and then place a call to our non-emergency number 619-531-2000.

We would like you to report these persons as potential "casers" or suspects. Very rarely are good services and reputable companies using door-to-door solicitation as legitimate means of commerce. More than likely it will be someone using a ruse or scam to separate you from your money. All the stories of "helping get to a college trip" or "for poor children / women/ etc..." are by and large fictitious and should in no way be encouraged with your hard earned money. We regularly encounter vans full of out of state persons with criminal history staying in our motels / hotels for just this purpose.

Don't be a victim:

Call the police to report this activity. If the person refuses to leave or tries the door handle, call 911. Help us keep the streets clear of scams, fraud and burglary. Your vigilance is greatly appreciated. As you know now, a litany of laws exist for just this reason, and for good reason. The direct correlation between unauthorized soliciting and crime is well documented.

Editor's note: UCCA thanks Officer Tortorella for this timely information. UC's Neighborhood Watch is made possible, in part, through allocation of membership dues.

Planning Board Updates from October 14 Meeting

by Barry Bernstein

University Terrace Apartments Project: The UCPG board voted NOT to support the request to build additional units at the University Terrace apartments. Jerry Herrman, a Calgary Avenue resident who led the opposition to building, was joined with many others speaking against the project. The San Diego City Council will make the final decision.

Fire Station New Build: San Diego fire chief Ken Barnes, along with city engineers, reviewed the possible site of a fire station in North U.C. The area, just south of Nobel, across from the library and close to 805, was highlighted, but was not what UCPG expected. This site was, and is not, acceptable due to many restrictions and environmental concerns. UCPG had made their feelings known previously.

It was brought to the attention of all those attending that Mayor Faulconer had recently made a commitment to have a fire station in South U.C. becoming a priority. UCPG will support building a fire station in both South and North U.C. and will seek to gain approval to use a portion of the accumulated Developer's Infrastructure Funds in the North U.C. plan to make that happen.

The next UCPG meeting is Tuesday, November 18, 6 PM, at Forum Hall/UTC (above Wells Fargo Bank.)

Help Wanted: Artists to Transform Little League Storage Sheds

by Sandy Lippe

Little League has three metal sheds in great need of a facelift. Sean Dunne, Little League president, came to UCCA to see if some artists who worked on the electrical box project could tackle the shed project.

Please contact bggellman@yahoo.com or sandylippe@gmail.com if you would like to learn more about this paid opportunity. Little League would like some creative designs on the sheds.

Housing Project Proposal for area behind Our Mother of Confidence Church

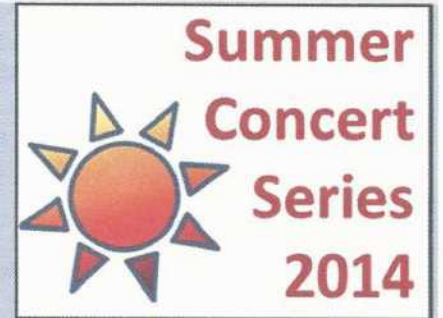

by Nancy Groves, UCPG Representative, South UC, 858-453-6486

A new proposed housing development on the west side of Regents Road between Pennant and Governor includes plans for ten two-story houses with house lots, grading, new road cut at Renault Way, house designs, landscaping, etc. If you have not had a chance to see the plans, give me a call and I will try to make them available. The developer has asked for two deviations from the standards used in our R-1 area: to reduce the front lot width from 50' to 40' and to make the front set back only 11' rather than the standard 15'.

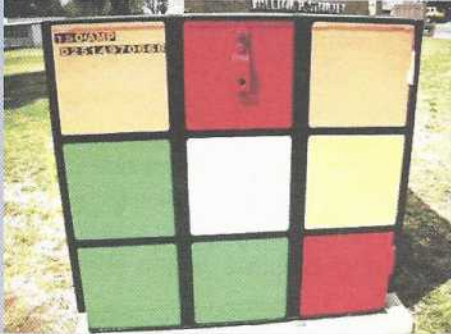

Although this project was an information item for discussion with the developer on October 14, it will probably be on the agenda for the November 18 meeting of UCPG as a voting item for the members of UCPG. If you have any comments on this project, send them to the City Development Department jsfisher@sandiego.gov and/or to the president of UCPG Janay\_kruger@msn.com.

Many local events and activities are made possible, in part, through a donation of membership dues as authorized by a quorum of the UCCA board. Thank you, members.

Mayor Faulconer Visits University City

by Sandy Lippe

Mayor Kevin Faulconer kicked off his San Diego "infrastructure tour" in District 1 on Monday, October 6, in Forum Hall at UTC, where a large crowd greeted him.

Rather than have a year-to-year plan of fixing up infrastructure, as was the past City policy, he thinks it is more efficient to plan for 3-5 years. "Money comes from you the taxpayers," he said, "and how we deliver services is important." In the past, the City would fix one area like storm drains and then blacktop the road, only to go back and dig it up again for sewer or a water issue. The "One Dig" idea will list priorities and get projects done quicker.

The mayor introduced James Nagelvoort, Director of Public Works/Engineering. He compared the Faulconer: The City needs to build a fire station in South UC soon. He also plans to place "fast response squads" of fire fighters as a temporary solution to a fire station.

current situation involving a backlog of projects to baby boomers. "Look at the backlog of projects the way a baby boomer looks at health. When we were young, things ran smoothly. At this stage we need to get things done and see what we can afford." He is head cheerleader for maintaining city assets like water and sewer mains, fire stations, and sewer pipelines.

Mayor Faulconer invited written questions and comments. He read aloud lots of comments about the Regents Road Bridge and kept the divided crowd calm. In a recent press conference with Councilwoman Lightner, the mayor talked about "certainty." He thinks the widening of Genesee and the proposed bridge need to be taken out of the community plan after a data-driven discussion.

At a recent City Council meeting, the Council unanimously supported an amendment to the community plan to study that change, but that is just step 1 in a long process.

The City needs to build a fire station in South U.C. soon, according to Faulconer. He also plans to place "fast response squads" of fire fighters as a temporary solution to a fire station. Besides that, we need to build the trolley and fix the roads. His talk was met with enthusiastic applause.

I Heard About It at the October UCCA Meeting

by Bonnie Hornbeck and Diane Ahern

Sherri Lightner, San Diego City Council, reported that Mayor Faulconer is seeking Level 2 water restrictions, or a 20% reduction in water use throughout the city. The voluntary restrictions put in place in July will now become mandatory. Residents will be able to water only 3 days per week and those with odd or even number addresses will be given specific days on which to water. For more information on water regulations, she suggested people go online to the city's "Water Conservation" page at www.sandiego.gov/.

Toni Atkins, Speaker of the House, represented by Rachel Gregg, reminded all of the new California State law that requires motorists to be at least 3 feet away when passing bicyclists, if possible; or slow down when passing cyclists when there isn't enough space to allow three feet.

Julio DeGuzman, City Attorney's Office, Criminal Division, reported that the Attorney's Office has three divisions: criminal, civil, and advisory. The criminal division defends the city against crimes; the civil division defends against lawsuits brought by citizens against the city; and the advisory division advises the Mayor of San Diego. He said that people should call 619-531-2000 (non-emergency number) if they see anything suspicious in their neighborhoods, but to always call 911 if one sees a crime in progress.

Scott Peters
US Congress, 52nd District

Cutting Small Biz Regulation: Earlier this fall, I introduced legislation to allow startups or businesses with less than $1 million in revenue to file federal taxes annually instead of every quarter as is required by current law. The bill, named the 'Cut REDTAPE Act,' will help spur startup and small business growth.

Making it easier for San Diego's entrepreneurs and innovators to start a new venture is critical to our economic success. This legislation will reduce the compliance costs and paperwork burden that come with quarterly tax filings – a burden that is stunting small and new businesses.

Two business focused groups, the San Diego Regional Chamber of Commerce and the Tax Foundation, wrote positively about the legislation.

The Chamber said: "The Cut REDTAPE bill is a piece of legislation that would streamline tax paperwork and reduce duplicative tax assessments, both of which the business community sorely needs." The Tax Foundation said: "This is a prudent piece of legislation that will reduce administrative costs and promote some growth, with virtually no downside."

For more information about the Cut REDTAPE Act, my work to help spur small business growth, or what services my office can provide, please visit my website scottpeters.house.gov.

Sherri Lightner
City Council, 1st District

The question of whether or not to build the Regents Road Bridge through Rose Canyon, which separates North and South University City, along with the debate over whether to widen Genesee Avenue to six lanes, have long generated controversy in this community.

The University Community Plan is outdated and has been in need of revamping for several decades. Since taking office, I have been committed to improving the community plan to better reflect the needs of residents and businesses in both North and South University City.

Last month, I brought forward a resolution to the City Council that initiated an amendment to the community plan.

This was the first step in a process that will include a new analysis of traffic and emergency response times and will include numerous public meetings. One goal of this process will be to help City planners identify solutions to make sure South University City is more accessible to emergency first responders. Building one or more new fire stations south of Rose Canyon is one of the options that will be explored.

I am committed to bringing additional fire stations to the community and protecting the natural resources such as Rose Canyon that make University City so special. I look forward to receiving community input throughout this process and will provide regular updates on upcoming public meetings.

As always, please feel free to contact my office if you have any questions about this or other neighborhood issues at <http://www.sandiego.gov/citycouncil/cd1/index.shtml>.

This year's Oktoberfest by EdUCate! event will go down as the hottest one, ever. And I am not just talking about the weather. Thank you to all those who attended the Oktoberfest community celebration. Through ticket sales, this year's Oktoberfest raised almost $8,000 for our five public schools.

Thank you also to all musicians, donors, sponsors and volunteers. We couldn't have done it without you. Visit the EdUCate! website www.uc-educate.org for more information and photos from this year's Oktoberfest.
