Grand Opening of the UC Farmers' Market

Hi, my name is Brian Beevers and I have been working for the past few months on bringing a Farmers' Market to the UC area. I started and currently manage the Point Loma and Mission Valley Farmers' Markets and believe that with community support and a good location we can create a successful farmers' market in the UC area. This effort came out of numerous requests from customers and vendors who live or work in the UC area. I am hoping that with my expertise in this field along with my passion for local organically grown foods, healthy living, and supporting local economies, we can see a thriving market for UC to call its own.

* Now Open! UTC Certified Farmers' Market at the Westfield UTC shopping town near Macys. Every Thursday from 3-7pm you can enjoy a wide selection of local produce, fresh fish, smoked salmon, local honey, fresh baked goods, fresh cut flowers, olive oils and ready to eat foods!

Gold Medallion tree on Governor Dr.

Now that the 4th of July is a great summer memory and fall is right around the corner, it's time to start planning for next year! The 2011 UC Celebration Planning Committee will have its initial meeting at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, October 19, at the Standley Recreation Center. Anyone interested in ensuring we have a 4th of July Celebration next year is encouraged to attend! Thanks again to all! Cathy Romanas, 2010 UC Celebration Chair, cathyromanas@hotmail.com

Sharon Thomerson has been appointed Library IV Branch Manager at the U.C. branch on Governor. She was a youth services librarian at La Jolla/Riford . When that library closed for renovation and expansion, she worked at our U.C library. We are glad to have her back as head librarian. Michelle Ruiz is the talented youth services librarian. Stop by to welcome Sharon and visit with Michelle. Join Friends of the Library while you're there. We need to keep our wonderful librarians and make certain the library remains open... Community policeman Alan Alvarez would like U.C. locals to know in early summer a duo of men were breaking into some homes in U.C. One guy chatted with the homeowner while the other one went into the home and performed the daylight robbery. "Be vigilant. Lock your car doors too and don't leave valuables visible in your cars," was Alan's advice....Nancy Beck, Century 21 realtor, donated $500 to the UCCA Transformer Art Project underway on Governor Drive. Many thanks to her. UCCA provides paint, equipment, and cleans the boxes. The artists submit designs and then paint. UCCA is hoping to get other businesses to sponsor this project.U.C. photographer Michelle Ramey has shared some beautiful photos of birds, flowers, animals and plants she photographed in Rose Canyon. Some of the artists painting the transformer boxes have used them as inspiration for painting...San Diego engineer Fred Goossens is still working on the Genesee/Governor intersection and is in the process of getting estimates of what the costs will be to implement all the suggestions he has made to make Governor and Genesee a safe place to walk, bike, and drive. UCCA will inform the community as soon as Mr. Goossens gives us the word. You can ask questions of the co-chairs of the Governor/Genesee project: Larry Hogue at [\[san.rr.com\]\(mailto:lhogue11@san.rr.com\) or Jeremy Bernstein at \[Jeremy.i.bernstein@gmail.com\]\(mailto:Jeremy.i.bernstein@gmail.com\)...A pine tree on the Governor median across from the library was cut down and for weeks no one knew why. Thanks to the investigative talents of Jesse Mays, our rep from Councilwoman Lightner's office, we learned that the tree was leaning like the tower of Pisa and just fell. The city sent out workers to cut it down. Now the question is when will it be replaced...Speaking of trees, some Gold Medallions are in beautiful bloom in front of homes on Governor. These trees were also a UCCA project under the guidance of former Councilman Scott Peters. their official name is Cassia Leptophylla... Finally, UCCA has applied for a \$5,000 grant to redo the medians in front of Marketplace Shopping Center on Governor Drive. \(Think Henry's and the post office\). According to local contractor Richard Betzenderfer, replacing the ugly blacktop medians with bricking or stamped concrete could cost \$26,000 for both medians. The one across from the post office would cost \$10,000. The one that runs to Regents would cost \$16,000. These aren't the city costs, however. The San Diego Chapter of Landscape Architects will award the grant in December. In the meantime, UCCA could use some help in finding the more funding to start and finish this critical project. Since Marketplace is a great benefactor to more attractive medians, maybe some business owners will help us find funding. Any suggestions are welcome from our readers. The cell tower at the library receives rental money going directly into the general fund, as you read last month. If the U.C. community could get half of the first year's rental money of \$15,000, that would go a long way to help the median project. Let's revisit this decision with the mayor's office; \[jerrysanders@sandiego.gov\]\(mailto:jerrysanders@sandiego.gov\).](mailto:lhogue11@

A Message from the UCCA

President

By Barbara Henshaw

September is always an exciting time when both kids and parents look forward to school opening with new teachers and new friends to meet. UCCA hopes every enjoyed the summer concerts on Sunday evenings at Standley Park in July and August. Andy Freeburn chaired the event and worked with the staff at Standley, especially Charlene. John Schindel also showed up several Sundays to help. It is fun to see families enjoying the music, picnics, and dancing. All over the park children are making memories of summer Sundays at Standley. With autumn in the air, UCCA will change the seasonal street banners on Governor, Genesee, and Regents.

The UCCA board has two devoted volunteers on the beautification committee: Barbara Gellman and Sandy Lippe. The Transformer Box Art Project will see 22 boxes on Governor painted by artists. This art project has been a work in progress since Barbara got SDG&E approval to paint the boxes. Thanks to the generosity of Nancy Beck, Century 21 realtor for her $500 donation to help defray costs for paint and equipment and a small stipend for the artists. Watch for the new designs and artwork on the transformer boxes. According to SDG&E, graffiti is rarely a problem on the painted boxes, but is one on the unpainted boxes. A giant thank you to Barbara and Sandy for their hard work and dedication to making U.C. a beautiful place to call home.

With the city of San Diego in fiscal trouble, our medians haven't gotten the watering and weeding they did before July 1st. Hugh Pates is working on a solution to this problem that will involve volunteers assisting the Aztec gardeners who will make infrequent visits.

UCCA welcomes your support as a paid member of our community association and a generous volunteer. Our next board meeting will be on Wednesday, September 8th, at 6 p.m. at our library community room on Governor Drive.

New Beginnings

Councilmember Sherri Lightner

In my first column for the UCCA Newsletter, I can't help but reflect on the most memorable event in University City since I took office. The tragic military jet crash on December 8, 2008, changed forever the lives of many in UC. Thankfully, the neighborhood is beginning to look more like it used to, with new homes framed on the crash site. I am glad to have been able to assist at the local level by repaving the damaged streets and expediting the building permits for the houses that were destroyed. I am even more thankful for the efforts of neighbors reaching out to neighbors, to the Marines for their thorough and continuing response, and to the emergency responders for their heroic actions that day.

Much progress has been made in 20 short months, but there is still much to do. I remain focused on addressing neighborhood concerns that improve our quality of life, even in these tough economic times. Whether it be a streetlight that is out, a pothole that needs to be filled, or traffic that needs to be slowed down, please don't hesitate to contact me to let me know how I can be of assistance.

Councilmember Sherri Lightner represents University City on the San Diego City Council. (619) 236-6611 or SherriLightner@SanDiego.gov.

Thanks to our lead contributor, UCCA (University City Community Association), and others listed who donated prizes, food and other items. Thanks also to everyone who performed, rented booth space, or contributed in any other way to the fun of the day!

IN MEMORIUM

Eugene Joseph Capuozzo (September 1, 1928 to July 26, 2010) opened our local Round Table Pizza in 1981; it immediately became a community hub for business groups, sports teams, school clubs and local families. Eugene is survived by his wife and the love of his life, Lucy. He is also survived by his four children, ten grandchildren, and a great-granddaughter. Eugene contributed much to our community over the years and he will be missed greatly.

¡Viva España!

By Katie Dunahoo

Katie Dunahoo, her husband, Jack Klein, and twins Mark Brito Klein and Claire Brito Klein returned in July from a wonderful 21 month experience in Spain. With the goals of a cultural experience and learning Spanish, Katie enrolled the kids in Colegio Puerto Sol in Málaga for 7th and 8th grade. She turned over her real estate business to her partners, rented their home, packed up and moved. Extreme? Exciting? Scary? Fabulous? It was all of that and so much more. The family was embraced by the local Spanish community and made life-long friends from Spain and several other European countries.

Why did they choose Málaga? Katie did two recognizance missions and decided that the weather, the friendly people, slower pace, school contacts and golf for Jack pointed her to Málaga. The location is perfect for seeing the Costa Del Sol of Spain and it has an international airport for seeing more of Europe. Málaga is just a two hour drive from Seville, Granada, Ronda, Cordoba and Gibraltar, and just three hours from Morocco. Against the advice of several English speaking locals, Katie put the kids into a semi-private Spanish school. It was amusing when one of the classes was English as a second language. School was quite a challenge for the kids in the beginning but they ended up in the top 5 of their class of 29. Not bad for kids who didn't speak Spanish when they left San Diego. One of the hardest things was leaving the life they had built there. Welcome home to the Dunahoo Brito Klein family.

POSTAL ANNEX HAS MOVED!

by Mary Kay Hewitt

Postal Annex has had a home in our community for 25 years. The first of its kind was opened here by Jack Lentz in 1985. Jane and Frank Reilly bought it in 1988 and for many years it was adjacent to the post office. Currently, it is owned by Tim Roth and it has recently moved to the north side of the Marketplace (3268 Governor Drive). Tim's store now features internet access and enlarged mailboxes with greater availability. In the future there will be 24-hour access to the mailboxes.

Over the years the owners of Postal Annex have been very generous to our University City Community Association and we wish them every success in the future!

Meet Jeff Olivero, Our New UC High School Principal

"There is no such thing as a day off from learning" By Ron Bee

This fall, UC High School has a new principal. The school district selected Jeff Olivero, former principal at Mira Mesa High School, to take over the reins. Jeff helped MMHS become a California Distinguished School and oversaw student achievement scores there rise to among the highest in the district. While noting UCHS's impressive track record, he wants to "ensure that our graduates are eligible to attend the finest colleges and universities in the country."

Jeff believes, "It is vital that we utilize time resourcefully....Five fewer school days this year will be another challenge for our staff." Students and parents will both have crucial roles to play. "My philosophy is there is no such thing as a day off from learning." Students, with parental encouragement, should engage in extra-curricular activities, community service, part-time employment, and internships as ways to better compete for the best colleges and ultimately for the best jobs.

Jeff Olivero has three main messages for his students: "One, work hard and apply yourself at school; two, choose the right friends; and three, have fun!" As a former head football coach and athletic director, he also acknowledges the importance of a strong athletic program: "Campus and community pride are often tied to the success of high school sports teams....I look forward to the addition of numerous banners in the gymnasium."

Jeff has committed to working with staff, students, parents, and the Centurion Foundation to take UCHS to the next level. We as a community must also share that commitment and help our new principal achieve his important objectives. Welcome to UCHS, Jeff, and GO CENTURIONS!

UC Little League News

by Jemma Samala

UC residents may have noticed all the red, white and blue decorations and large crowds watching baseball games at McElroy Field (UC Gardens Park) this summer.

That's because UC Little League was honored to have hosted the local Little League District and Sectional All-Star tournaments. It certainly helped UCLL's all-star team gain home advantage as they ended up winning the district championship, and came in second place in sectionals.

Congratulations to UCLL's Juniors All Star Team members: Manager Josh Craig, Coaches Joe Bailey and Larry Yandel, Players Shawn Arnett, Connor Bailey, Chris Bee, Drew Cowell, Brad Gafford, Craig Grubbe, Daniel Lopez, Brady Owens, Ryan Risse, Quinn Skillin, Sandon Steidley, Quinn Stofan, Thor Villalobos and Matt Yandel.

UCLL's other All-Star teams also did very well in district tournaments, with our 10/11 team coming in second place. UCLL also hosted the 10/11 sectional tournament. We want to acknowledge and thank UCLL's many volunteers who helped throughout not only the regular season, but also the daily routine in running the All-Star tournaments – coaches, scorekeepers, snack bar workers, field maintenance, umpires, plus the many friends and family members who showed their support for the teams. Big thanks to grandparents Tom Ferrier for making new helmet and bat racks, and to Elmer Samala for his daily field cleanups. Little League is 100% volunteer driven, and couldn't survive without everyone's commitment to youth sports.

UCLL will soon start the Winterball season, a casual schedule, with games played on Sundays. Cost is only $45. For questions about UCLL, contact Jemma Samala, jsamala@san.rr.com.

Congrats to everyone who came out to play in the third annual UC Photo Race held at the 4th of July University City Celebration! The UC Photo Race was a photo scavenger hunt on foot around University City, with ten clues that led to locations along Governor Drive.

Fourteen teams of 2-5 competed in this free race for some cool prizes. Mudkipz (Or and Ziv), Team Name (Rogue and Caitlin) and T Squared (Katrina and Tish) were the top three finishing teams. Full results, clues and pictures can be found online at www.sdrocketrace.com/ucphotorace2010
