

Quarterly Community Policing Report

SAN DIEGO POLICE DEPARTMENT
CHIEF OF POLICE
SHELLEY ZIMMERMAN

As the Chief of Police for America's Finest City, I am pleased to present to you the San Diego Police Department's first ever Quarterly Community Policing Report. This report highlights the many ways we collaborate with our community to help us set the national model for community policing.

Public Safety is a shared responsibility between our police officers, professional civilian staff, volunteers and the community whom we so proudly serve. Community policing provides a collaborative opportunity for keeping our neighborhoods safe. Our community partnerships are essential for designing and implementing crime prevention strategies and problem solving measures. It is the community and the police working together to address crime fighting and quality of life issues that fosters the highest level of public trust and safety. This working relationship has helped San Diego maintain its reputation as one of the safest large cities in the United States.

As you look through this report, we invite you to join us in our community policing efforts. Connect with us at a community meeting, attend an event like National Night Out, or visit your local police station. Let's partner together to share the rights and responsibilities necessary in identifying, prioritizing, and solving problems that impact our communities.

I am extremely proud of the men and women of the San Diego Police Department for the tremendous work they do each day. I am also proud of our great citizens here in San Diego. Together we are making a positive difference for our City. From neighborhood to neighborhood, we are committed to working together with our community to ensure San Diego remains America's Finest City.

Shelley Zimmerman

SAN DIEGO POLICE DEPARTMENT

Quarterly Community Police Report

No police department is large enough to keep a community safe on its own. Effective crime prevention requires the active support of citizens and a partnership between police and the community. The San Diego Police Department is dedicated to developing, building, and maintaining community partnerships throughout the city. Our Community Policing efforts are the foundation of those partnerships.

We accomplish our community policing strategy in a variety of ways but most can be put into four categories:

- I. Community Partnerships- The meetings we have to discuss public safety, crime statistics, and quality of life issues.
- II. Community Involvement- The events we participate in throughout the city to foster community relationships. Our ride-along program is an integral part of this.
- III. Community Outreach- The ways we provide awareness, education, and information to the community about public safety, crime trends, and crime prevention.
- IV. Community Givebacks- The volunteering and charity efforts we participate in inside and outside our normal work hours.

Below highlights many of the ways we have attended and/or participated in community events during the first quarter July 1, 2015 to September 30, 2015:

I. Community Partnerships:	461
II. Community Involvement :	507
III. Community Outreach:	118
IV. Community Giveback:	36
Total:	1,122

Quarterly Community Police Report

- Volunteer Services -No police department is large enough to keep a community safe on its own. Effective crime prevention requires the active support of citizens and a partnership between police and the community. Community policing is an important foundation of the San Diego Police Department. What makes San Diego's approach to community policing unique is the extent to which the police department has made volunteers an integral component of its program.

The San Diego Police Department is viewed as a leading force in law enforcement innovations occurring across North America. The Department's adult and youth volunteer workforce has approximately 700 members. These volunteers play a vital role in the department's vision to engage the community in a problem solving partnership that will reduce crime and positively affect the quality of life in all communities.

The San Diego Police Department has used volunteers for a wide variety of job assignments for many years. Programs throughout the Department are considered models in volunteerism in the public sector. Volunteers are essential to Department operations. They help provide a level of customer service that could not be achieved by the Department's staff alone. Volunteers represent all segments of society. The variety of functions performed by this police department affords opportunities for people with varied interests and skills. The San Diego Police Department's Volunteers in Policing (VIP) program offers a unique opportunity for citizen volunteers to become actively involved in providing efficient, effective, and responsive service to our community.

The use of volunteers includes Crisis Interventionists, Retired Senior Volunteer Patrols, Volunteers in Policing, Reserve Officers, Police Cadets, and various support staff positions that enhance the organization's effectiveness. This is a result of two decades of change in policing philosophy that has heralded San Diego as a pioneer in many areas of law enforcement.

The San Diego Police Department has a significant resource available in the San Diego community: individuals who are ready, willing, and able to serve as volunteers. In a time of limited financial resources and increasing demands for services, it is important that volunteer opportunities continue to be identified and this resource increasingly utilized.

Currently, The San Diego Police Department has 102 active Crisis Interventionists, 350 RSVPs, 23 Reserve Officers, 106 VIPs, and 45 Cadets. Our volunteers are on pace to meet or exceed last quarter's volunteer service when our Crisis Interventionists responded to 124 callouts assisting 645 people, worked 3,536 hours, and were on call and prepared to respond for an additional 1,271 hours; our Reserve Officers worked a total of 1,963.5 hours; our VIPs contributed 5,620 hours; and our Cadets participated in 29 Community and Department events volunteering approximately 580 hours.

It enables citizens to get a first-hand look at policing and to better understand the role of the police. It increases the opportunity for more effective problem solving, and it enhances mutual understanding and cooperation and leads to an improved police/community relationship.

During this quarter, San Diego Police Officers participated in approximately 291 ride-alongs.

Community Outreach

By educating the community on crime prevention techniques we can reduce the number of crimes in San Diego and increase the quality of life for its citizens.

The topics include, but are not limited to: auto theft, burglary, domestic violence, firearm safety, graffiti vandalism, holiday safety tips, internal theft, identity theft, forgery, fraud, juveniles, landlord/tenant issues, narcotics, personal safety, Police communications, SDPD history, robbery, school safety, senior safety, sexual assault, shoplifting, stranger danger, traffic, transients and violence at work.
